LUMENFORGE

WEBSITES YOU CAN WALK THROUGH

An interactive 3D studio. We model in Blender, bake with bpy, and ship Three.js + React sites that load under 2 MB and hold 60 fps on a mid-range phone.

POSITION

The web is still flat.
Flat is expensive.

01

Visitors cannot imagine scale

Static shots force customers to guess size, material and finish. Guessing is where carts die.

02

Video is a dead end

A 4 MB hero video looks expensive, costs LCP and cannot be explored. A billboard, not a room.

03

WebGL got a bad name

Most 3D sites are 40 MB showreels from studios that never had to ship on an Android.

BEAUTY THAT SURVIVES A MID-RANGE PHONE

`first load < 2.0 MB` `60 fps` `lighthouse 95+` `⩽ 8 draw calls`

THE FORGE

Blockout · Forge · Budget · Wire · Harden

01

Blockout

Camera path, scale and light locked before a texture exists.

02

Forge

bpy builds hero assets, bakes lightmaps, exports GLTF with LODs.

03

Budget

Draco + KTX2 against a signed-off first-load ceiling.

04

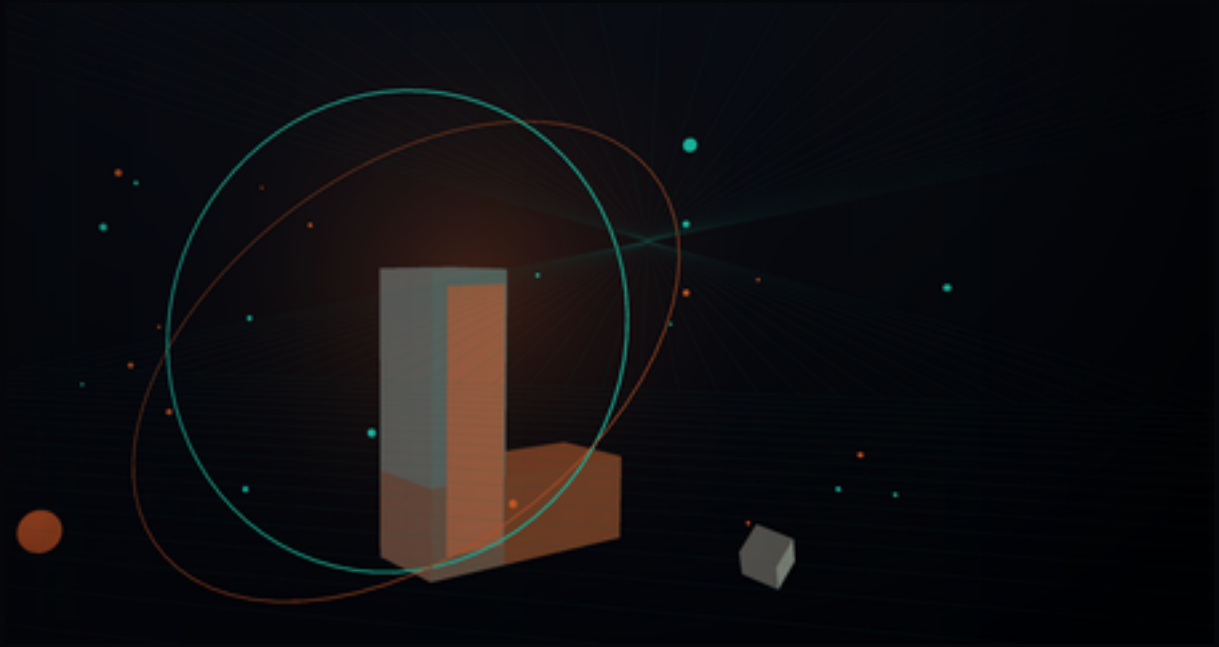

Wire

React Three Fiber scenes, scroll timelines, CMS bindings.

05

Harden

GPU tiers, fallbacks, SEO-safe HTML, Lighthouse gate in CI.

COMMERCIALS

Fixed scope, fixed number, fixed date.
